PHILADELPHIA, March, 1, 1853. Dr. O. M. Jackson: Dear Sir-For the past two years I have been severely afflicted with Liver Complaint, Dyspepsis, Bilione Diarrhoss, and Piles, suf-fering in a great degree constantly, the pains and in-conveniences attendant upon such diseases, without energy, being scarcely able to attend to any business. I lost a great deal of my need, and used many kinds of medicine, with no superent change, until I commenced with your "Hoofland's German Bitters," they have entirely sured me. I have gained in weight over forty pounds since I commenced their use, and I am now entirely free from pain and solle of any kind, and feel like a new man. I unhasitate ingly recommend your Bitters to all invailds.

Yours, respectfully, JOHN B. CORT, No. 12 Lagrange Place W. H. Adams, pab. of the Argus, Weston, Mo., July 17, 1861, said: "I was last summer so very low and weak as not to be able to stand at the case longer than one hour at a time. I tried one bottle of your German Bitters, which entirely cured me. I have used two bottles. I sent two bottles 150 miles from here to a friend who had been sick for a long time; he has also been cured by them. I believe them to be superior to any medicine new in use."

E. B. Perkins, Mariette. Ohio, Feb 22, 1851 said: "Your Sitters are highly prized by these who have used them. In a case of liver Complaint, of long standing, which had resisted the skill of several physicians, was antirely oured by the use of & Bottles." F. Kesselmeir, Jewoller, Wooster, O., Des

CAPTAIN CANOT, UTHOR OF THE GREAT BOOK JUST BE-ING PUBLISHED, SPEAKS OF HAMPTON'S

GREAT CURB OF RUBUMATISM CONTRACTED UNDER TROPICAL CLIMATES. BALTIMORE, Md., June 4, 1854. Mr. Stockbridge, of the Fountain Hotel, Light street,

Dear Sir: Being on the point of leaving the city I avail myself of a few idle moments to thank you kindly for the medicine you sent me, and which has restored me to the use of my limbs. I beg you to send me four bottles more, to carry on my voyage. Since I had the fortune to use Dr. Hampton's Vege table Tincture my confidence is so strong that, in gratitude to the proprietors of said medicine, I beg you to present my respects to them, and induce them to make it more publicly known as a sure Rheumatic cure. Having called on me on the 19th of April last, and seen me prostrated on my bed, escless in all my limbs, you can appreciate nearly as well as myself the prompt relief I received from Dr. Hampton's Tineture, and I am positive had it not been for your strong and foreible recommenda tions I should still have been in bed.

It is really a pity this specific should not be approved by medical men, and like all patent drugs it should suffer the imputation the public generally give to such preparations. I myself, who was all ways opposed to a patented specific, took this medicine with reluctance, and without confidence in it and it was only through your disinterested, friendly recommendations, and my critical situation that induced me to try this really beneficial Vegetable

Tincture. You may inform Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray that they are at liberty to make use of my name i the support of the good effects of Dr. Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, as it has sured me in five weeks of a chronic Inflammatory Rheumatism, contracted under tropical climates, and of seven years' periodical duration. I have only used three bottles, and find that even the deformed parts of my hands are fast returning to their former natural appearance. I have been under the treatment of several physicians in London and Paris, without any apparent benefit; also, while in New York, having tried the Thompsonian and Homospathic remedies, after having been tormented with galvanic batteries, celd and aromatic baths, and hundreds of internal and external medicines, all to no effect, I am, so far, cured by this Hampton's Vege able Tincture only Therefore, my dear sir, accept of the assurance of my gratitude, and believe me your well wisher. THOMAS CANOT.

REV. VERNON ESKRIDGE, U. S. N.

PORTSMOUTH, VA., Aug. 18, 1851. Boush-Dear sir : While I am, in zene ral, opposed to patent medicines, candor compels me to state that I have great confidence in the virtues of Hampton's Vegetable Tincture. For several months past I have used it in my family; and in ing it to the afflicted as a safe and efficient remedy. I am, respectfully, yours,

VERNON ESERIDGE. Chaplain, United States Navy.

TERKEY VICTORIOUS.

SOCIETY AT FLORENCE. A correspondent of the Newark Advertiser

at Florence, thus speaks of sundry notabilities, and the state of society in that city: "In music, Italy is still far in advance of us; though Rossini-the song-bird of Paradise, nestled in these olive vineyards-grown old and captious, perhaps, now shuts all the wealth of his melodious soul within itself, refusing to 'minister to the corrupt tastes of the day.' In other than his own words. Verdi's assumption of the musical throne has driven the king of this realm into moody solitude And a kingly solitude, indeed, is old Rossini's !-his very silence has a royalty in it that is felt; he retires in grandeur, attended by wealth, and the repose of his age is as luxurious as was the life of his youth, and the reign of his prime. His beautiful villa stands on a commanding point of the cottine, and is the resort of his still loyal subjects. Too near acquaintance, however, with the persons and private histories of most great men of Europe not only dissipate the illusion of distance, but reveals characteristics and habits so revolting that one often regrets such disenchanting intimacy. In this case, one turns from the elegant retirement of the old voluptuary, Rossini. to the tomb of the spiritual Bellini, with less of regret that Paradise reclaimed so early its. musical child.

"Florence seems now to be a gathering lace for the notorious, as it has been the birth place of the celebrated. Here resides in almost regal pomp, Prince Demidoff, hasband (separated of course) of the famous Princess Matilda, now in power as queen of beauty-though in verity passee-at the court of her cousin, Napoleon III. Demidoff is a Russian of plebian birth, his princeship hav ing been the gift of this ducal crown, probably on account of immense wealth, his only prince ly claim. His chateau-one of the great attractions here, more desirable for being less accessible than others is richer in its interior than any of the ducal residences Not only has he tables and other articles of furniture. but mantel-pieces and pavements of malachite and tapis tazuli; indeed his visitors often wear in a small broach on the bosoms precious stones, such as they walk over or lean upon in his gorgeous saloons. The grounds attached to his villa are nearly as extensive our the brains of an engineer on the Ohio and as the royal gardens, and are enclosed the whole length by an iron fence, higher and richer than surrounds any American park. But inborn valgarity is apparent in the position of this sumptuous residence, on low, marshy land, excluded from any of the fine views which lesser villas enjoy. The Prince's income is said to be over $200. 000 per annum; yet, when recently remanded to Russia, he left Florence deeply in debt; from which fact the expenses of his daily living may be estimated. Should be ever return it will probably be with diminished wealth, as his Emperor no doubt had need of him. The present "bonne amie" of this prince is the wife of a nobleman here, who lives himself on the best terms with her, though her relation with the Russian is publicly acknowledged-she presiding at all his balls, which, by the by, are attended by the best society. including English ladies of delicate tastes and habits! On the Prince's departure he purchased a place for this renowned lady, where she resides with her husband during his ab-

Another notoriety here is Byron's Guiccioli, now married to a rich old Florentine marquis. whose peacock tread through the halls of fashion, with the beauty (of sixty) on his arm, de notes how proud he is of being husband of the poet's mistress!-which honor it would seem is deemed enviable by the crowd of courtiers that surround the marchioness, who, if not fair as the Countess Guiccioli, still holds her own artistically-her blonde ringlets being no whiter for her years - and who carries in her march a queenly consciousness of superiority among high women. Indeed, in coming to Florence she knew her sphere, and revolves gleriously in it Many other lesser stars of fashion-fallen stars in their native spheresfind here also the most favorable position; among them are several "ladies in their own right," i. e; without their husbands Truly Florence is a motherly hospital for suffering reputations, and it is wonderful how soon desperate cases come out whole again. A Florentine himself remarked the other day of a great lady who had lost caste even in another Italian city, "Whe don't she come here Florence would receive her with open arms, and put her in position again '

Definition of a Yankee.

As the Yankees are creating no liftle excitement in the commercial, political, and military world, we give the definition of a genuine male Yankee that may not be considered

A real genuine Yankee is made up of animation, checked by moderation, guided by determination, and supported by education He has veneration, corrected by toleration, with a love of self approbation and emulation, a d, when reduced to a state of aggravation. can assume the most profound dissumulation for the purpose of relation, always combined

if possible, with speculation. A real live Yankee, just caught, will be ound not deficient in the following qualities: He is self-denying, self-relying, always try ng, and into every thing prying.

He is a lover of piety, propriety, netoriety. and the temperance society. He is dragging, gagging, bragging, striving. briving, swopping, jostling, bustling, wresting, musical, quizzical, estronomical, philosophical, poetical, and comical sort of character, whose manifest destiny is to spread civiliantion to the remotest corner of the earth, with and fine gingham Umbrellas. an eye always on the look-out for the main

A Novel Siger .- On Sunday last, the Ro man Catholic Council of the Archdiocese of New York, which had been in session for a week previous, terminated with imposing ceremonies. A procession of nine bishops, more than thirty priests, and a large number of deacons, sub deacons, chaunters, ac lytes, &c . marched through the streets, from the resi dence of the Archbishop to the Cathedral, and then around and through the latter building. This took place at half-past ten o'clock, in the morning. At the head of the line was borne a large crucifix, followed by acolytes, robed in white, and the inferior officers of the mass bearing wax tapers and flowers. The priests were robed in cassocks, the chaunters in copes. and the bishops in their official robes and with their mitres and croziers. The arch-episcopal cross was borne before the Archbishop, who was attended by a deacon, sub-deacon, deacons of honor, and an assistant priest. As the procession moved along the streets, the chaunters executed the Latin service, the censors were swung, the wax lights burned, and the splendid robes of the bishops and archbishops had their trains borne by attendants. When the ceremonies were over at the Cathedral, which was afternoon, the procession reformed. and again marched through the streets, in the same manner, back to the Archbishop's resi-

Adams was not aware that the gun was loaded when he pulled the fatal trigger.

Mr. H. W. Farley, of East Boston, has invented a method of setting the valves of locomotives so as to obtain a rotary motion for the wheels Mr. F. places a suitable shaft just beneath the floor, on which shaft are two wheels at distances co responding to the gauge of the track. The rail being cut away at that point, these rollers are placed with their upper surfaces flush with the top of the rail, and by so locating the locomotive that the driving wheels rest on that point any desired motion my be given by rotating the shaft.
